DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 03/24/2008 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 10 recites the limitation " ... the system comprising" in line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Rejection of subsequent dependent claims 11-18 follows for depending on rejected claim 10.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-5, 7-14, 16-23, 25-32, 34-41, 43-50, and 52-54 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Stanforth (US 20020058504 A1), hereafter "Stanforth."

Consider claim 1. Stanforth discloses an apparatus (16) for establishing a communication session with a terminal (12) (see figs. 4-6 and 9, pars. 0023, 0038). Stanforth discloses a processor (see fig. 11) located in a network across which an originating client is configured to communicate, wherein the processor is configured to receive a connection request (Terminal-to-Gateway Setup, fig. 6), and in response thereto, send a network-independent trigger to the terminal (Gateway-to-Terminal Alerting, fig. 6), wherein in response to the trigger, the processor is also configured to receive a registration message from the terminal via the network to thereby register the terminal with the apparatus and acquire a network-dependent identity of the terminal to thereby enable establishment of a communication session with the terminal based upon the network-dependent identity of the terminal (see pars. 0042, 0049, 0050, figs. 6, 10C, and 11).

Claims 10, 19, 28, 37, and 46 address the same subject matter as claim 1, therefore same rejection applies.

Consider claims 2, 3, 7, 11, 12, 16, 20, 21, 25, 29, 30, 34, 38, 39, 43, 47, 48, and 52 as amended. Stanforth teaches claims 1, 10, 19, 28, 37, 39, 46 and further teaches processing call setup request and registration procedures (see pars. 0053, 0057, figs. 6 and 18).

Consider claims 4, 14, 23, 32, 41, and 50 as amended, Stanforth teaches claims 1, 10, 19, 28, 37, and 46 and further discloses SIP protocol (see pars. 0040 and 0044).

Consider claims 5, 13, 22, 31, 40, and 49 as amended. Stanforth teaches claims 1, 10, 20, 29, 38, and 47 and Stanforth further teaches buffering functions (see par. 0040 and fig. 4, where Stanforth discusses that inter-working between an ad-hoc radio terminal 12 with the switched cellular network uses H.323 protocol for Voice-over-IP (VoIP) telephony within the packet network, hence applying buffering functions).

Consider claims 8, 17, 26, 35, 44, and 53 as amended. Stanforth teaches claims 1, 10, 19, 28, 37, and 46 and further teaches wherein the processor is located in a network across which an originating client is capable of at least one of directly and indirectly communicating (see pars. 0021, 0026, 0038, figs. 4 and 9).

Consider claims 9, 18, 36, 45, and 54. Stanforth teaches claims 8, 17, and 44 above and further teaches a public network (see the title, abstract, pars. 0013 and 0014).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

Art Unit: 2617

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
 2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
 3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
 4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
8. Claims 6, 15, 24, 33, 42 and 51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stanforth (US 20020058504 A1), hereafter "Stanforth," in view of Dingman et al. (US PGPub 20040024879), hereafter "Dingman."

Consider claims 6, 15, 24, 33, 42 and 51 as amended, Stanforth teaches claims 1, 19, 28, 37, and 46 above, but does not particularly refer to a network address translator (NAT) or firewall (FW). Dingman teaches a network address translator (NAT) and firewall (FW) (see Dingman: pars. 0011, 0016).

It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the invention of Stanforth and have it include a network address translator (NAT) and firewall (FW), as taught Dingman, thereby enabling safe communication between a system within a protected network and an external system.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-54 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground of rejection.
